Janet's Jottings

Another busy month with visitors and Probus activities!! Our fabulous weather is a blessing.

Our Darwin and Palmerston Probus club Executives met for the first HUB meeting for the year. A great time to meet new members and what an enthusiastic group!!

Lots of shared experiences and ideas passed between us, with many combined events in the planning, so watch this space.

Lyn, Tony and myself met with His Honour, our Patron for morning tea. Whilst on that visit, his Secretary, Craig asked that we promote Nominations for the OAM. There are so many worthy Territorians who deserve recognition for their contributions to the NT over the years. Why not put pen to paper or fingers to keyboard and nominate some worthy person.

Just to let you know that we are no longer collecting plastic bottle tops. Thank you to those who have contributed.

I wish to thank Tracy Village Sports Club for their generous support to our club over the years. The events room and tea and coffee, are given to us freely, Some folk have 2 coffees/tea, so lets support them by swiping your membership card at some point during the morning and stay for lunch where we can continue our fellowship. They would greatly appreciate our support!

Our Bulletin Editor says thanks for all the contributions and the Bulletin is turning into a book!!! Thanks Gwenda for keeping us connected and informed.

Stay safe, and those not well, please recover soon!!

Cheers
Janet

Seniors Snippets

- Minister's Advisory Council for Seniors - I have been appointed community member. First meeting 6th July. A range of matters were discussed to assist Seniors NT wide.
- Jacana - Your guide to energy efficiency. There are some interesting items such as TV uses $0.59 hr while game console uses $1.40 hr, Air Conditioner $0.52 hr. Well worth getting a copy to check where you can make some savings
- Seniors Garden Competition and Luncheon Grant - KAB were successful with the Senior's Gardening grant application, so it looks like a Senior's Gardening Awards presentation luncheon (free) at Pearl Retirement Village Leisure Centre will be held on Monday 28th August. A great event last year. Looking for over 70 seniors interested in gardening to attend and have a great fun senior's luncheon event again this year.
- Senior Month - August - COTA have listed 200 events across NT. If interested download the calendar on www.cotant.org.au/territory-seniors-calender.
- Reforming Aged Care in Australia—there is some interesting and helpful advice available. Check Freecall 1800 200 42 or website. <https://www.health.gov.au/resources/publications/reforming-aged-care>
- Probus South Pacific - have advised that Probus Clubs are covered by QBE Insurance for Public and Products Liability

Probus Darwin—Travellers on the move

Japan sent in by Allan Mitchell

During April 2023, I travelled to Japan for three weeks, principally to complete a hike which had been canceled back in 2020 and then to follow up some sites of military history. I finished my trip attending the Anzac Day service in Yokohama.

The eight day hike is called the Kumano Kodo, on the Kii peninsular in southern Honshu, the main island and is one of only two World Heritage Pilgrim Trails in the world - the other being the Camino de Santiago in northern Spain.

The hike was not particularly long at about 65km and as a first for me, I paid an Australian company, Raw Travel to organise everything, the accommodation, meals, transport etc. All I had to do was walk, and that wasn't too hard.

Since 1994, I have belonged to an international peace organisation called SERVAS (servas.org) and over that time I have hosted hundreds of people at my home here in Darwin. Arrangements are reciprocal and on this trip, I chose to stay with some hosts in Japan, in Wakayama and in Nagasaki. These stays were highlights of my trip.

Given that Japan had only opened to travellers in late 2022, I was happy to find some hosts that were willing to take me, both of whom were arranged before leaving home. My first hosts, Ikumi and Tamon Okano lived in Wakayama, about an hour by train from Kansai airport near Osaka. Given that my flight was not scheduled to arrive until after 8pm, this did not faze them and they arranged to meet me at the station, having sent me instructions in English and Japanese on how to catch the train and what station to get out where they would be waiting for me. We met as planned and then drove to their house, where I was made to feel very welcome.

Ikumi Okano and Tamon outside their home and beautiful garden in Wakayama

The following day, we drove to Koyasan, an ancient shrine and temple-filled town considered to be one of the most sacred places in Japan. It was an almost 150km round trip and the perfect introduction for me to the history and shrines of the Kumano Kodo.

On Saturday morning, we had a pleasant walk from their home by the sea, which was quite lively with fishermen. Following breakfast, and before I was dropped off at the railway station, we had a great drive, following more of the coastline, visiting more shrines and an older village where the art of lacquering is practised.

I took the train further south to Tanabe, to join with a group of nine, mostly Australians on the self-guided Kumano Kodo.

Following the hike, I took the train to Aridagawa, where I overnighed and had dinner with the local branch of the Australia/Japan Friendship Association. This had been organised before leaving home by Tomoko Kumanogoa a school teacher who has visited Palmerston High School with exchange students about ten times over the years.

With Akiko at Mount Inasa overlooking Nagasaki

Probus Darwin—Travellers on the move

Moving on the next day, and with several train changes, I travelled on to Nagasaki, where I was met by my second host, Akiko Akiyama. Nagasaki was the second city to be bombed, three days after the bombing of Hiroshima on 6 August, 1945. Japan surrendered on 15 August, thus ending World War 2.

The first item on the agenda was a drive to Mt Inasa, from where there is a stunning view overlooking the city and beyond and an excellent spot to get your orientation. I'm sure anyone who has toured Nagasaki, would have been there.

Akiko then dropped me at the Peace Museum for a few hours, before collecting me and headed to her home in the suburbs - there are lots of hills in Nagasaki.

My room was lined with tatami mats, but by now I was pretty used to them and the shoe protocols. After dinner, we were off again, back up the mountain, to catch what is considered one of the best night views in Japan.

The following day, we spent hours walking through the ancient city and port with its incredible history. Nagasaki first opened to Westerners hundreds of years ago when the Portuguese settled there and introduced Christianity. The Dutch and Chinese have also left their influences on the city.

Around sunset, we took the dogs for a walk along a quiet beach a few kilometres from home.

The following day, it was back to the station, and headed to Hiroshima (doesn't everyone?). Whilst there, I took an interesting side trip an hour away to the port of Kure, where the world's largest battleship was constructed during WW2. Today, there is a museum housing an 80 foot model of the Yamato.

Then it was off to Tokyo for the final few days, where I visited the National War Museum and shrine honouring soldiers who died during the war. Amongst the exhibits is a restored steam locomotive used on the Thai-Burma railway.

Before leaving Darwin, I had arranged through our Federal member, Luke Gosling to attend Anzac Day at the Commonwealth War Cemetery in Yokohama. This event was arranged by the Australian Embassy in Tokyo and they provided a coach on the day, which certainly made it easier to get to the rather out of the way location. I laid a wreath in honour of the 2/21 Btn, known as Gull Force, around 70 of whom are buried there, having died on Hainan Island during the war. Gull Force spent many months in Darwin in 1941, before being sent to Ambon and captivity. We have our own plaque to Gull Force in Bicentennial Park, near the Cenotaph.

And that was my brief three week trip to Japan, leaving so much more to see on a future trip.

Evita – Superstar Productions – 2023

Mary Verus

I have been performing on stage in some form, whether it is choir formation or Stage Musicals since I was approximately 16. My absolutely favorite form of performance is definitely Stage Musicals. You have the combination of singing, acting, dance, costume and make-up. Probably one of my favorite places to be.

In my 20's I performed in many musicals however, after moving to Darwin the opportunities to do this were much rarer. When The Darwin Chorale announced they would be performing Evita, I was just a little disappointed as it was one of my less favorite musicals. However, I didn't let that deter me and auditioned. I was over the moon when I heard I had been accepted into the Ensemble. By the time the performances came around I loved the music and still have Ear Worms ringing in my ears.

Young people just love musicals and it was so wonderful to have so many new faces in our cast. All friendly, enthusiastic and incredibly talented.

Our main leads were Rachel Wharam who played Evita, Shalom Kaa who played Che Guevara, Martin Gore who played Juan Peron, Darroch Robinson who played Agustin Magaldi and Louise Morgan who played the Mistress. I have performed with each of the wonderful performers previously. They are incredibly friendly and have copious amounts of talent.

Then there were the dancers – what can I say. Boy could they dance and sing. Most of them were new to Darwin Chorale but we certainly hope they will be returning.

Of course The Ensemble, of which I was a member were a massive part of the production. We adored performing the singing, tears, laughs and movements that were required. Our orchestra was totally made up of local musicians who fitted right in.

The Production Team consisted of Steve Kidd as Director, Nora Lewis as Musical Director, Rochelle Cabry and quite a few others who are so amazing every time a show is put together.

Finally the Back Stage Crew – who were always there when needed and to the best of my knowledge never missed a cue.

A Stage Show is definitely a Team Effort. One part does not work without the other. You can have the World's Best Singer but if there is a Wardrobe malfunction or if the Ensemble doesn't join in when required the whole show is disappointing.

Then of course there was you wonderful people. A show is no good without a fabulous audience. So thank you to all of you who attended.

I must add I was so proud to have my granddaughter Charlotte, who was appearing in her first Stage Show, at my side.

Our next performance will be a Disney Concert which will be in Choir Formation with books so not quite so exciting but definitely worth attending. The dates are 6th and 7th October.

Editor Note: I have heard nothing but whole hearted praise from the Probus club members who attended over the two nights of the production of Evita. The audience gave the cast, orchestra and back stage staff a standing ovation.

Probus Club of Darwin Community Award (Paul's Milk Award)

This award began after a visit to Government House in 2012 when the Administrator at the time, Sally Thomas AM, noted (from the bulletin archives) that the club had visited the Paul's Milk factory 25 years earlier and commented that the success of Paul's Iced Coffee had mirrored the success of Probus Club of Darwin. She presented Ean Thorne OAM with a carton of Paul's Iced Coffee to acknowledge that visit. From this Ean then proposed we create a community award within the club to recognize the efforts of club members who were not part of the executive but contributed significantly to the well being of the club.

This year the club has decided to recognize Ron Ninnis for his contribution in initiating and coordinating the Writing interest group since 2020 and providing contributions to the bulletin.

It's Paul's Iced Coffee for me

There was a young man called Paul
Who ate meat pies and all.
He'd have Macs, AND KFCs ALRIGHT!
As well as Paul's Iced Coffee with Bourbon at night
Until he was high as a kite.
That was his delight
Until at forty he had a fall
That WAS Paul.

Literature, Lunch and Laughter

Thank you Helmy. You did an amazing job in my absence. I now have a hard act to follow.

We were a very animated group of seven today with in-depth discussions on the various titles we had read.

Books read June and discussed July

- Batavia by Peter FitzSimons. Not recommended. Too blood thirsty and gruesome story of the ship that runs aground.
- Nancy Wake by Peter FitzSimons. The white mouse in the French Resistance. Very detailed, good read, enjoyed.
- Beartown by Frederick Backman. Good read and enjoyed by all who read this book. Small township where ice hockey played a large part in its survival.
- Siddhartha by Herman Hesse. Well written, thoroughly enjoyed and recommend to read.
- Any title by Lucinda Riley. Review of Storm Girl—enjoyed the historical content. Review of Seven sisters—good read and recommend.

Books to read July and discuss August

- The Broken Shore by Peter Temple
- The Tin Drum by Gunter Grass
- Roads and Kingdoms by Richard Fidler

Don't ever feel alone. Come and join us.

We meet on the first Monday of the month and new members are welcome to join us at the Casuarina Club where we meet at 11 to discuss books and we eat, drink and are merry afterwards.

Next meeting—August 7, 11:00am at Cas Sports Club

Stay well, stay safe and happy reading, Bev

We read out our stories on last month's exercise of the photo of the girl on the beach. Everyone found that it was a useful exercise, but was not easy. The situation was judged differently, as well as the age of the girl.

The 7 minute write-up was on the topic: "You've got the map upside down!" (This actually turned out to be 10 minutes, but who's counting?) We all had lots of laughs about the tales that were told. (all true of course.)

The new topic for the coming month is.

"On this day, thirty years ago....."

A suggestion was made that, to save any last minute panics just before the month's topic is due, that we make a new "rule" that we limit our writing to 20 minutes at a time. I shall give it a try.

The next meeting (always the third Tuesday of the month) is :

Tuesday 15th August at the Cas Club at 11 am.

Everyone is welcome, but it is best to see me at the next Probus meeting.

Outwards—Nil

Treasurer's Report: Bal $305.50, Receipts Nil, Expenses $83.85, Bal $241.55

Presentation—..The Treasurer presented an overview on the Probus Club organisation.

Probus began in England in 1965 when 2 Rotarians persuaded their Rotary Clubs to establish local groups to provide fellowship for retired business and professional men.

Probus is the Latin word for honesty, integrity and virtue. The description of Probus Clubs is to provide the opportunity for those who have retired to meet regularly without pressure and with minimum cost in circumstances which provide new interests and friends.

Probus clubs are autonomous, simple in structure, non-political, non-sectarian and non-fundraising..

Can you help?

As there is so much need at present for items to help the Mission to Seafarers to assist the mariners coming in to Darwin it has been decided to keep the collection boxes going for a while longer.

If you are able to help out, the following items are most needed :

Toiletries—soap, razors, toothbrush and paste

Clothing—smaller size underwear, t shirts, socks and beanies.

The boxes will be at the next meeting and the items taken into the Mission.
